It was the best of times,

ENTERI

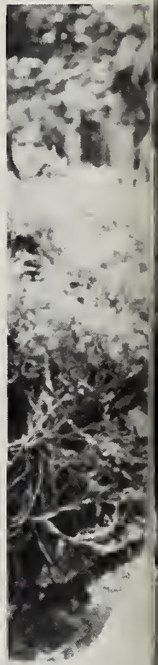
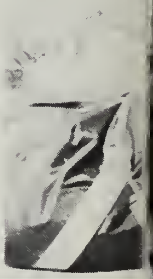
LONGMEA

It was the worst of times.

It was the age of wisdom,

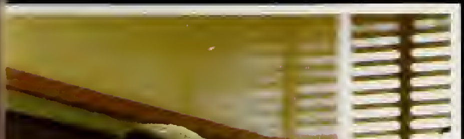




THE GREAT CITIES/RIO DE JANEIRO
BRAZILIAN ADVENTURE
FLEMING
NEW ENGLAND AND THE SOUTH

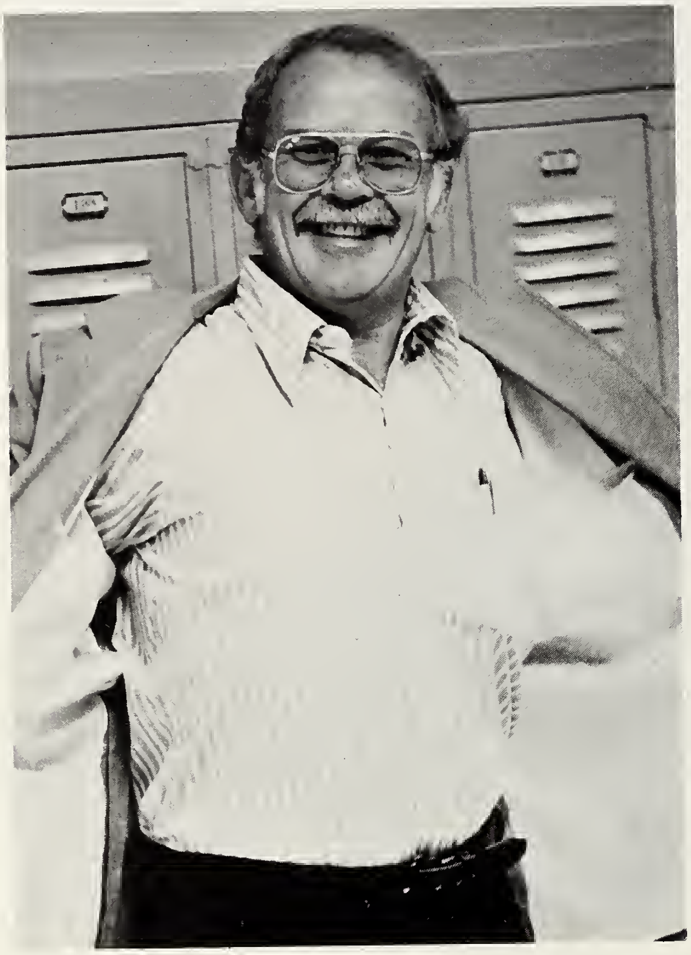
It was the age of foolishness.

It was the season of light,



It was the season of darkness.

It was the spring of hope,



LONGMEADOW
LACROSSE

It was the winter of despair.

Yes! That's what our years at Longmeadow High School were, a mixed time.

A time of happiness, a time of sorrow; times about which we reminisce, times when a lot was learned.

Many of those learning experiences were painful: romances --- friends --- sports --- and of course, academics. But, through all these times --- the sun shone through.

And didn't a little light shine through in even the darkest moments?

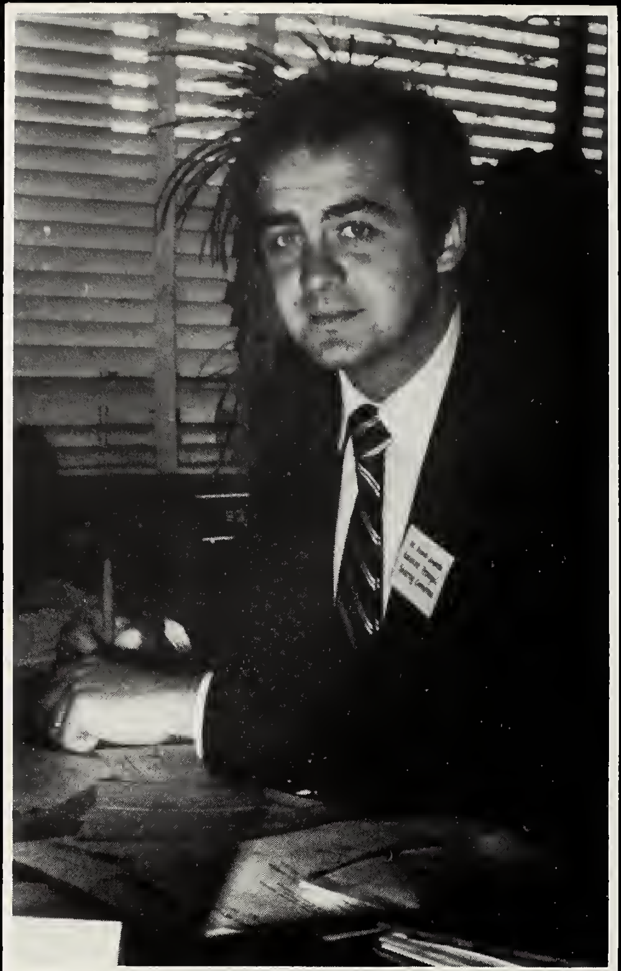
It was you, Class of '82, that made this

“The Best of Times”!



The class of 1982 has had four great years at Longmeadow High School. For this, we know that we owe much to many teachers, parents, and friends. However, one of the main reasons for this success has been a very special person who contributes endless hours helping the students. Although he sometimes admonished us during some of our darker moments, he has helped us become better individuals and has made these past four years, and this time "the best of times." To thank this person in some small way, for always being around with a smile and a willingness to help, we dedicate the 1982 Masacksic to Mr. Francis G. Simanski.

Seniors

From the first day that we walked into this school as small, intimidated freshmen, we began to establish our goals. Some we reached with tears of happiness, others we watched pass by with tears of sadness. But throughout the good and the bad, we grew up. Gone are the insecure days of concern on how we dress, talk, and relate to teachers. The friends, the fights, the parties, the jealousies: all of this we have experienced. But what a four years we have had to experience them! We have watched our boys' Lacrosse team win the states three times, watched our hockey team make it to the finals in Boston, boogied to disco as freshmen and then punk as seniors, and even crossed our trusty Connecticutt state line at "special" times! We experienced the freshmen cliquiness but then found out during our last year that our class is truly the classiest (perhaps our fun-filled senior class play helped with this). The day that we walk up together to accept our diploma will truly be the celebration of two occasions: our education, and most importantly, our new-found maturity. They will enable us to walk out that Longmeadow High School front door, and say, "You know something, I truly am going to miss these days . . . they were the best of times."

Your joy is your sorrow unmasked.
The deeper that sorrow carves into your being, the more joy you can contain.
When you are joyous, look deep into your heart and you shall find it is only that which has given you sorrow that is giving you joy.
When you are sorrowful look again in your heart, and you shall see that in truth you are weeping for that which had been your delight.

Class Council

"We're in the money!" We did it! After three grueling years of pain-staking fundraising for senior activities the class of 1982 attained financial security. Under the terrific supervision of advisors Sue Broderick and David Slate, the class forgot about the bank account and concentrated on the long-awaited senior activities. Despite the confusion of the cancelled semi-formal, the spring semester sprung. The class play "Good News" and prom and banquet organization saw a diligent effort as the now unified class celebrated the end of high school. Without doubt, the success of the class of 1982 parallels the dedication of its officers President Amy "lily" Terrell, Vice-Presidents Mal Condon and Bronwyn O'Reilly, secretary Joanne Marcelina and treasurer Paula Sachsse. These officers have inspired the class with a fiery spirit that resulted in an AWESOME senior year!!

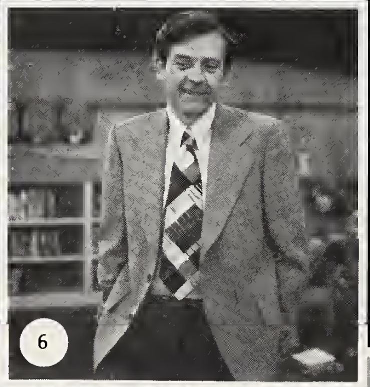
Our Advisors



I volunteered to be Class Advisor for two reasons: first, my family and I could use the extra money; secondly, I had had many of the kids as students in freshmen biology and was impressed with their intellegence and enthusiasm.

I truly believe that the Class of '82 has the leadership that offered many opportunities for the students to become involved in class activities. I am very optimistic that our class play and senior week activities will include all seniors.

I would like to thank all class of officers of Junior and Senior year who made my job extremely easy and enjoyable. You have been a joy to work with.

I wish all members of the Class of '82 continued success in the future.

As they say in the ad, "you've come a long way baby."'

David Slate

"Senior Class Advisor . . . again. I tell myself, as I sit down with my phone and absentee list," it must be fun or you wouldn't do it." And for the most part, it is: watching seniors actually dance at Homecoming Dance; dressing Mal, Joe and the crew as cheerleaders with Alyce; coming to school as Hester Prynne, pregnant, on costume Day; hearing 25 guys attempt "My Country 'Tis of Thee" in try outs; watching excitedly as scenes actually work in rehearsals; seeing half the class try to squirm out of semi-formal dates; waiting to see if those 30 seniors will make it to graduation line-up. Being senior advisor has been easy this time; working with David Slate is a pleasure, and doing the second time through is much more relaxed. Just anybody try to con me into a third term!!"

Faculty

Sharing both the best and worst of our high school years are the faculty. They are immersed in the many memories of our school years and are an integral dimension to an often peaceful, sometimes turbulent, education. Teachers impart knowledge to their students, the "next generation", and many have witnessed students striving with great determination to learn. Seasons have passed, both in darkness and in light, yet as graduation approaches, the teachers also feel satisfied seeing the results of their dedication in the graduating class. Throughout the hope for A's on tests and papers, and the despair when the grades just "don't make it", the faculty remains constant with their support and inspiring "pep" talks. Amidst these love-hate relationships, some teachers are very special, even though demanding. It is these interactions which prepare the students for their next endeavors. Teachers are a catylictic force in the maturing process which occurs during our high school years.

"It's time to go home." Mrs. Dorothy Reed, the director of food services for the town of Longmeadow since March 11, 1968, retired in February of 1982. One may remember her working in her glass-walled office in the corner of the cafeteria or at the breakfast bar in the morning. She enjoyed meeting the kids, and she'll miss knowing all the new fads in clothing!

Mrs. Reed's work extended beyond school hours; she was always so helpful when school groups needed her services for such functions as dinners and bake sales. She had a unique view concerning her job; she liked to think of the cafeteria as a "mini-restaurant" in which she had the pleasure of satisfying our appetities. Mrs. Reed liked to make people smile with the sight of something good to eat, and so she brought baking to our schools' cafeterias. The cookies for every school in Longmeadow are baked at LHS - between 2,000 and 3,000 every day!

Mrs. Reed views a beautiful lake from her kitchen window. She and her husband cleared the land for their home in 1941, and she is happiest there. She plans to travel, visit her grandchildren, and continue her hobbies of gardening, baking, and sewing (she makes most of her clothes herself).

Mrs. Reed's love for her work, for life, and for the people around her is evident in everything she does. Thank you, Mrs. Reed for giving so much to L.H.S.!

If it were a course, Mrs. Natalie Jangl would major in "Understanding." As the school social worker for the past three years, she has helped students through their darkest moments and has been a sincere friend to hundreds. Not only does she provide the kleenex, but also an untiring ear that extends beyond her school functions. Mrs. Jangl also founded a group, "The Divorced Kid's Group," for students with problems in their families. Meeting at her house once a week, the group learns how to accept and handle the realities of split families in the most positive manner.

Mrs. Jangls' love for working with adolescents helps her to maintain her excellence in her field. She finds that each day brings something unique to her life. No two persons are the same she claims, and therefore, she relates exceptionally well to each individual. She shares her personal life with one of Longmeadow High School's previous Health teachers, Al Jangl. Horseback riding, bicycling, and camping are common activities in their life. In addition, Mrs. Jangl is known for her perpetual optimism. She has worked in order to transform the 'worst' into the 'best' with her relentless faith and hope. She has offered love and companionship to us all Flashing down the halls of LHS at Mach I speed, Dr. Gilbert Lamarre, head of the reading department, is a difficult man to ignore. His accomplishments are many and his concern for others great. Having been both teacher and principal during his career, Dr. Lamarre has taught in Canada, Alaska, Japan, and on North Dakota's Indian reservations, as well as in Longmeadow. He has served as principal in both Japan, and at Center School here in Longmeadow.

While in Japan, his organizing schools from scratch, setting up curriculum, and choosing teachers and equipment has created lasting memories for the good "doctor." Another great learning experience involved living among the poverty-stricken Indians in North Dakota.

Today, Dr. Lamarre enjoys ice-skating, reading, and studying languages. His interest in people has not waned. Feeling that people are his whole life, he brightens the appearance of the school by decorating the "hallowed halls" with bright plants and flowers.

His concern and effort do not go unnoticed. His classroom boasts testimonials from former students, showing their appreciation for the care he has shown them. We're glad he's back!

"I'll fix your wagon!" proclaims Mr. Fil emphatically when a student does not do his homework or comes late to class. Mr. Raymond Fil first entered our "hallowed halls" in 1972. He now teaches courses in accounting, typing, and business. However, we owe Mr. Fil many thanks for another vital function which he provides for our school. One often spies him in the supply room next to the gym; he is master of our school supplies, responsible for knowing which items are running short, typing up the orders, and checking them as they come in.

Mr. Fil thinks highly of L.H.S. "We have an excellent staff and facilities, and the students are 'good kids' who are fun to have in class and who work hard at their studies." Outside of school Mr. Fil enjoys playing volleyball for recreation, and his beautiful home reflects his love for gardening (he has had ample experience with potatoes). Providing L.H.S. with materials under the restrictions of Proposition 2 ½, and chasing after volleyballs, Mr. Fil's own wagon seems to be fixed!

"Travel-it's worth a master's degree!" Coming from an oil boom town in Texas, Mr. Russell Cobbs has fully experienced the diversity of education in several fascinating cultures. A teacher since 1960, Mr. Cobbs began his career in "the home of J.R." Dallas, Texas and proceeded to become a research grant writer for the University of Houston before venturing to the chilly province of Newfoundland, Canada until 1966. Between the years 1966-1971, Mr. Cobbs taught at the American High School both in West Germany and Puerto Rico as English Department Chairman. Be it schussing down the slopes of St. Moritz or Kitzbuel or tanning on the sandy beaches of Aruba and Caribbean islands the exposure to these cultures has remained a lasting memory, adventures which Mr. Cobbs hopes his students shall share similar experiences. Mr. Cobbs brings a dedication to his teaching at LHS that is refreshing and unique. Since 1972 Mr. Cobbs has brought to his junior students a new vitality to Shakespeare's Macbeth or Hardy's Mayor of Casterbridge with innovations of perception. Mr. Cobbs finds his students of the 80's more eager and receptive to the challenges of English, in his words "It's the beginning again of the best of times." During his free time, Mr. Cobbs loves the outdoors and outdoor sports which he enjoys with his wife and daughter. He is also very involved in dog obedience training and his Maltese, Beau is just terrific. So is Mr. Cobbs.

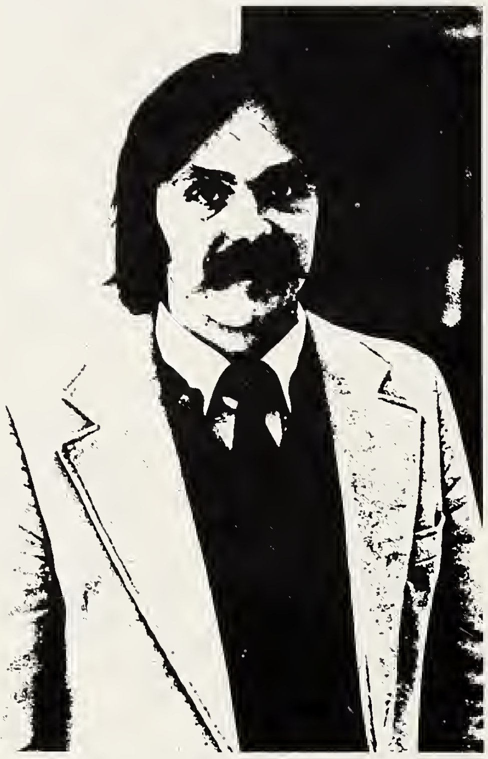
"Monsieur Potvin, vous avez tres chic!" Mr. Robert Potvin, affectionately known by his students as the "Muppet man," has been teaching in L.H.S. for fifteen years. However, this is his first year as a dual language teacher, adding Spanish courses to his French. His enjoyment in and enthusiasm for teaching has given him the energy to escort several hundred students to France during his career at Longmeadow, not an easy endeavor. However, he has now retired from that awesome activity.

A man who enjoys skiing, hiking, bike riding, canoeing, camping, with his family, and "sick humor," Mr. Potvin's greatest passion is the Muppets. Admitting his lifelong devotion to the loveable puppets, he has a favorite, Miss Piggy, whose pictures are seen throughout his classroom, and whom he finds the "most beautiful female on the earth." Mr. Potvin's sense of humor is thus revealed to his students, showing his pleasure in teaching and his devotion to education! Au Revoir!



Mr. Peter Thomsen has taught at L.H.S. for almost ten years now, yet those not involved in the elective music programs probably know little about the mastermind behind many musical activities. His abilities include playing guitar, piano, and drums, as well as possessing extraordinary vocal talents. Guided by his musical talents all through life, Mr. Thomsen naturally decided to continue his education and major in the music field. He studied at the Crane School of Music, supporting himself by entertaining at clubs. Although he enjoyed this activity, he chose getting a degree in music because, to him, teaching seemed a more solid and dependable occupation. Mr. Thomsen arrived at L.H.S. in 1973 as the sole vocal teacher and eagerly recalls the thrill of watching his first music group of 68 singers almost triple in size with the graduating class of 1977, his most memorable year. He has gained the respect of the students, not through harsh dicipline, but by relating to them on their level of intelligence. Unlike the "suffering" academics, his students choose to be a part of his classes, and their spirit reflects his fine ability as a teacher. Some "highs" Mr. Thomsen has experienced here as a teacher include the formation of I Cantori, electronic music, and guitar theory. Mr. Thomsen says that the "lows" he has faced are not caused by the students he has had but are brought about by negative attitudes towards the institution of education. However, with people like Pete Thomsen on the staff, the future of the music department should be bright if the students and their parents continue to respect and support it.

The Deary Delight is now in his 9th year of teaching at LHS, still maintaining his typical energetic attitude. The fourth oldest of thirteen children, Coach Deary, after attending Springfield College accepted the challenging P.E. position at LHS. Today, although Proposition 2 1/2 has diminished "one of the best physical education programs in the area," Coach Deary is pleased to see that students have a renewed appreciation of athletics in the Longmeadow P.E. program. There has been a refreshing transformation: students who formerly resented authority now appreciate the activities in gym class. As football coach for 9 years, Mr. Deary has the added responsibility of handling his team's personal, academic and athletic problems and also unifying these aspects to create a successful season. In addition to coaching football, Mr. Deary coaches varsity baseball which demands different responsibilities of him as a coach.

During the off-season, Coach Deary is a referee which enhances his perspective not only of high school athletics but college sports as well. Another mystery disclosed: during his summers Coach Deary runs "Mike's Stand" a family ice cream and hamburger palace which he and his brothers originated and which Coach Deary now can enjoy with the great help of his two children, Michael and Shannon.

Mr. Deary is a genuine addition not only to the P.E. department, but to LHS as a whole.

Chalk dust flies in Ms. Laura Pestridge's math classes. Her enthusiasm is expressed in a hand literally flying across the blackboard. She is a dedicated teacher who has been known to get up in the "wee hours of the morn" so that her students can get their tests back the next day. If a student comes into class with a look of absolute fear on the day of a test, Ms. Pestridge will give him the breathing treatment: "Now calm down. Take three deep breaths. One two three!" However, since fun and jokes are balanced by a "let's get down to business" approach, Ms. Pestridge's class are far from easy. Her students must use their brains. Ms. Pestridge is "boss" in the classroom: monkey business can go only so far. She gives her students respect and expects the same in return.

Outside of school Ms. Pestridge has another love: her herb shop and herb gardens. She prefers working outside in the garden to being in the shop. "It's lots of fun."

Ms. Pestridge's eagerness to teach can be measured by the chalk on her clothes. She works hard at a job she enjoys and makes learning a pleasurable experience.

The chattering voices in room 132 are suddenly replaced by screeches of laughter and the sound of people scrambling on the floor: Mr. Morissette, with a deft hand, has attached an eye dropper to the faucet with a rubber hose (all kept nearby) and has sprayed the entire class with water. Despite a few students who are calculating their revenge, he has won the class's attention.

Mr. Ron Morissette has been teaching biology at L.H.S. since 1965. His love for this subject is apparent in the way he speaks of an oak tree outside the window or expresses wonder at the miracle of "dancing" fat molecules under a microscope. Mr. Morissette spends his summer vacations in Cape Cod, often taking walks on nature trails by the National Seashore. He also enjoys gardening, cooking, studying, meteorology, and watching sporting events. During the school year he coaches the boys' soccer and basketball teams.

Mr. Morrissette is the type of teacher who wants to see honest effort on the part of his students, not only top grades on tests. He realizes that some people cannot pick up the concepts as quickly as others can; he is always willing to give extra help to those who want it, and his grading system works to encourage students. Mr. Morissette's classes have to work hard, but they learn more biology than they know what to do with!

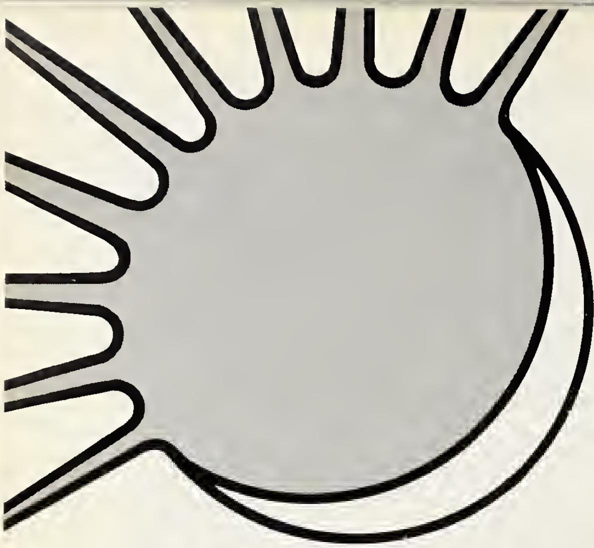
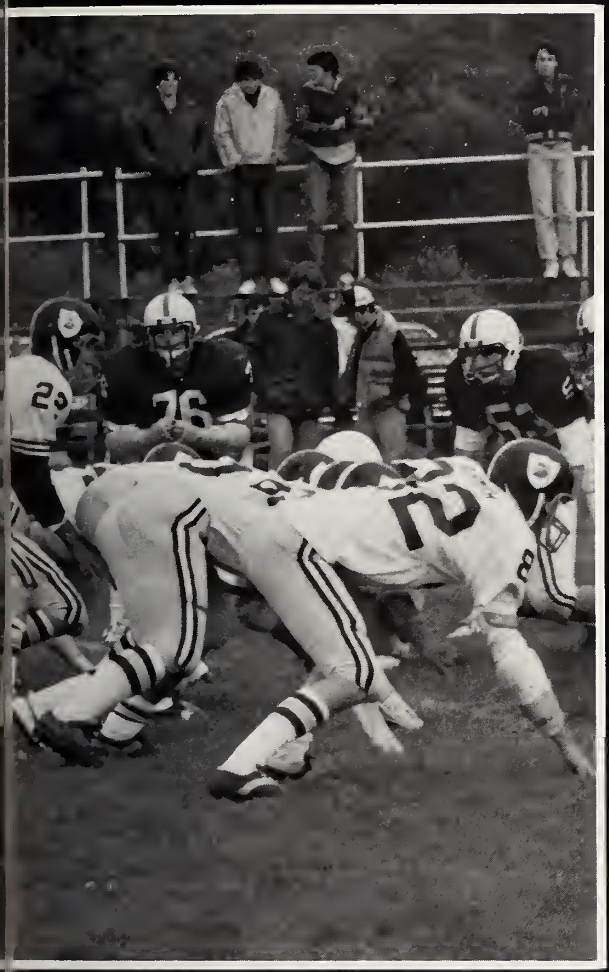
"I am a teacher of the law, not a lawyer of the law," explains Mr. Joseph Winseck, now in his 13th year of teaching at LHS. In addition to his rigorous U.S. History classes especially the much-feared U.S. II A.P.,("an awakening" to the rigor of college pressures), Mr. Winseck developed the less demanding Civil Liberties program at LHS, now in its 6th year. A highly popular senior elective, Civil Liberties is an informative course in which the students begin to understand the "legal pollution" of American society. Mr. Winseck believes that "one tends to be apathetic about something he doesn't understand," and with the valuable instruction of Civil Liberties, the student is better able to understand the law and its personal significance.

In his 19 years of teaching, Mr. Winseck has observed a progressive contrast in the typical LHS student. The turbulence of the late sixties and early seventies was reflected in a challenging, politically conscious, and even radical classroom. The students were individuals in contrast to the apparent uniformity and conservatism of today's students.

Also, Mr. Winseck, coach of cross country for 19 years, believes that "More kids grow from athletic competition and reach a degree of maturity that can't be achieved in the classroom."

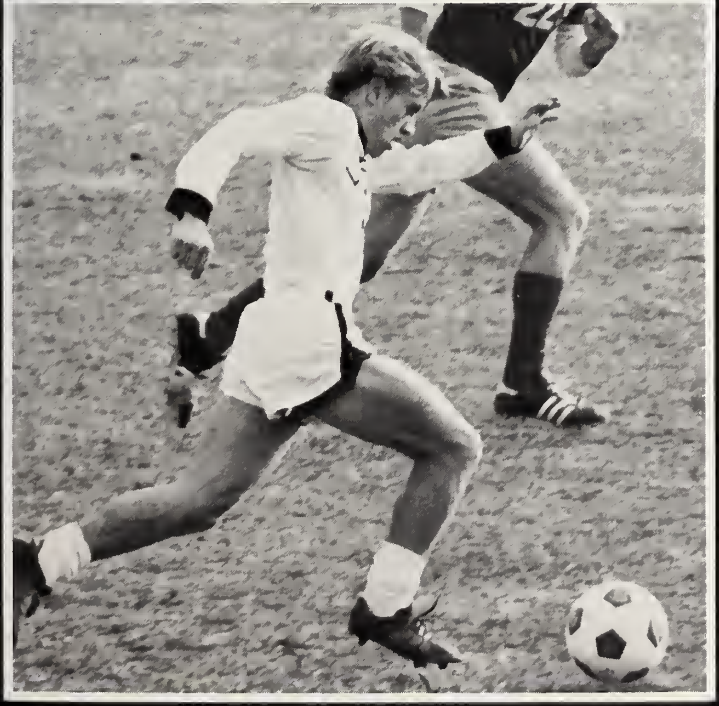
Mr. Winseck, happily married with three children, is a dedicated teacher who escapes modern-day pressures by woodcutting for his wood stoves.





Sports

Each year numerous students are involved in the sports program at Longmeadow High School. Despite Proposition 2½ and its detramental affects such as the elimination of freshmen and some Junior Varsity sports, support and participation in the athletic department has been phenomenal. Although the scores are not always victorious, the spirit and enthusiasm of the players reflect their camaraderie and team devotion. This year the parents played an unusually important role in helping to finance all the sports. Sports are another dimension of student life other than academics where students can be involved in both enjoyful and painful experiences which broaden their character. Sports have added a major contribution in many students high school years to make this "the best of times".



The Lancer gridmen battled their way to a winning season led by senior tri-captains Vin Daboul, Chris Klinker, and Matt Shoen plus the able coaching of Mr. Michael Deary. The season started out smashingly with a win over the mighty Cathedral Panthers, a team in a superior division. However, the team later struggled with tough losses to Agawam and Classical and the heartbreaking defeat to South Hadley in overtime. But of course, the Lancers who always fight hard eventually win, and triumphs over Minnechaug, Northampton, Tech, Greenfield, and Amherst earned the Lancers a winning season. Thanksgiving 1981 was made all the more memorable as the team topped off their season by drubbing arch-rival East Longmeadow.

Offensively, the team was inspired by the running of senior Pete Cwieka and the arm of junior signal caller Scott Hobbs. The offensive line of seniors, Bill Scott, Jim Krumsiek, Mark Meador, Chris Klinker, Tim Wright, and Greg Radner provided Hobbs with excellent protection for his passing game. Defensively, the line "shone" with seniors Matt Shoen, Bill Scott, Mark Meador, and Chris Klinker holding back their opponents.

Although the seniors will be sorely missed, Coach Deary has considered depth and expects the underclassmen to be ready for the 1982 season. Juniors Patrick Dawson, Web Fletcher, Robo Quinn, Richard Joseph, and Ike Glasgow plus returning quarterback Scott Hobbs provide a solid and determined foundation for next year.

Employing a double-barreled foreign connection, the black & white booters of LHS kicked their way to a successful season! Returning coach Ron Morissette led the energetic and determined Lancers through a topsy-turvy season. Davis Paulides, John Ebeling, and Bob Cwieka, astounding players, revealed their soccer skills during crucial moments. Excellent goal tending by senior Jim Shannon resulted in an impressive 8, 7, and 1 record. Weakness in the team's half-back throw-ins proved harmful during their loss to East Longmeadow, but excellence in corner kicking resulted in a win over annual rival Minnechaug.

The varsity team was joined by an outstanding and enthusiastic American Field Service Member, Lars Stigmo of Denmark. He added a helpful dimension to the game by teaching the players the Danish way of soccer play. Lars was responsible for 10 goals and 5 assists, a close second to junior, Davis Paulides.

Unfortunately Lars can offer LHS his talents only for this season, since he returns to Denmark in the summer of 1982. But any player will eagerly inform you of the pleasure and help that Lars provided to his teammates. In addition, David Liffmann from Columbia displayed the South American technique which added immeasurably to the team's success. Again, he too will be sorely missed next year. Coach Morissette anticipates a successful future with the return of juniors, Davis Paulides, Michael Vinick, and Matt Daniels. "A little improvement everyday" hopefully shall result in a championship season.

"Never give up!" That was the motto of the 1981 girls' field hockey team as they were rewarded with a win in a fierce grudge match with Northampton. The team, led by senior tri-captains Soozi Becher, Gaelen Harrington, and Bronwyn O'Reilly, did not let up even in the face of heartbreaking defeats and frustrating ties. A close unity and zany humor (Remember Halloween???) inspired the team onward under the guidance of first-year coach Anne Simons. "Annie" and the girls formed a close-knit squad that truly exemplified team effort. The offense was led by seniors Soozi Becher, Gaelen Harrington, Krista Conley along with junior dynamo Mona Devine. Two sophomore sensations Buzzy Hayes and Melinda Lawson closed out the offensive strong hold. Defensively, seniors Bronwyn O'Reilly, Sue Cohen, and Robin Cameron, with the added support of juniors Tracee Murphy, Pam Leagus, Lisa Doherty, and Sara Roth in the cage, kept Lancer rivals on their toes. Once again a sophomore, Betsy Cain, was strategic to the Lancer defense.

Next year the season looks promising with this young team returning more experienced but with the same determination and dedication that marked the 1981 team. Freshmen Sue Dineen, May Briones, and Carolyn Croteau should add a new spunky spark to the 1982 squad. There's always a next year, and "girls, keep up the tradition and Shake, Rattle, and Roll!!!"

1. Gaelen Harrington successfully attempts to win the center bully. 2. Melinda Lawson positions herself for a shot on goal. 3. "Brute" Betsy Cain concentrates on her defensive skills as she tries to steal the ball from an opponent 4. Field Hockey celebrates a victorious goal. 5. Bronwyn O'Reilly charges the ball down field, demonstrating her agility in dribbling. 6. Varsity Field Hockey: row 1- Robin Cameron, Gaelen Harrington, Bronwyn O'Reilly, Soozi Becher, Krista Conley, Sue Cohen, row 2- Tracee Murphy, Pam Leagus, Buzzy Hayes, Betsy Cain, Kathy O'Connor, Mona Devine, Melinda Lawson, Sarah Roth, Lisa Doherty, Coach Anne Simons. 7. Behind every team there's a story. Such was the case with the Girls' Varsity Soccer team which underwent a major change this past year. Their record of 2-10-3 can not begin to reflect the team's unity and record-smashing personality under the new coaching of Michael McCarthy who installed "respectability" as their unchallenged motto.

The seniors are known to hold the key to every team sport. Perhaps this was why the Girls' Varsity Soccer team had so much energy and such unsurpassed togetherness. The character of the team, thus, was unique with its diversified players and enthusiastic captain, Paula "Big Foot" Sachsse and Wendy "Wendue" Hochberg. Not only did these two inspire the team's lively morale, but were notorious for their aggressive behavior, along with senior Lynn Laakso, "Bumble Bee," and junior Ann Dowd.

The underclassmen girls also added immeasurably to team effort. Junior Dianne Marr, and All-Leaguer, was an unpenetrable full back, while Naomi Shupack and freshman Barbara Gill pounded in the most goals, and Ann Dowd, "The Fastest Lady," seered her way down the field while providing the team with faithful parents at every game.

Victory or defeat, the team ritually ran their loathed "Tour of the Hills" after every game and undoubtedly has shown great skill and promise as a result: But, more importantly, and exclusive togetherness stuck with them throughout the good and bad . . .

With a 12 and 1 overall record, our runners placed second in the Valley Wheel. Complementing the young men on the team, Christine Fijol won praise for her endurance and courage. During the fall season, the team ran between six to eight miles daily. Practicing for the three grueling miles of the next race.

Originating 21 years ago, the team has been coached by Mr. Winseck for the past 19 years. He spoke of his runners as "very competitive and dedicated."

1. Sean Maloney warms up prior to the race. 2. Joe Flanagan sprints towards the finish line followed by Mike Horowitz. 3. Mike Jones displays the look of concentration. 4. John O'Rourke prepares himself to run as best he can. 5. Cross-Country Team: row 1 R. Ouellette, B. White, P. Welch, M. Jones, M. Horowitz, H. Horowitz, C. Fijol. row 2, Coach Pike, A. Ochoa, J. What affect does a record have on a team's spirit? Although the LHS 1981 boys' gymnastic team did not have a "winning season," their spirits were not dampened. Moving the schedule to the fall was harsh for the team as a few key competitors were lost in the shuffle. However, Coach John Kober described this season as a "building year." Assistant Coach Ford Madden also added that their victory over Greenfield showed that the team was working together and working hard. Captains Bruce Damon, Jim Pantelopoulous, and J.P. LaPierre led their team into tough competition, aided by sophomore Joe Franson, leading scorer in the all-around, vaulting, and floor exercise. Larry Paquette and John Fijol set team records on the rings and high bar respectively. Other outstanding gymnasts this season were newcomers Dave Sears, Jim Fitzgerald, and David Connors, a freshman who shows great potential for future success. Willie Sligh, third year veteran, continued to display his excellent ability along with Andy Rosenbaum and Bob Sweeny. The 1982 season looks very promising for the young athletes. The team showed remarkable improvement and without the loss of seniors, should continue to grow at a rapid pace.

1. Joey Franson, during one of his hard-practiced events. 2. Lancer gymnast performs, perfectly, a handspring maneuver. 3. Larry Paquette effectuates part of his routine. 4. The girls' gymnastic team, coached by Judy Gregory, had a tremendous record; its highlight of the season was its having achieved third place in the Western Mass Competition.

Leadership was provided by tri-captains Amy Terrell, Sandy Muller, and Beth Wheeler, all of whom had excellent performances and spirit. The Lancer's best score was 103.50. Sophomores Connie Leavitt and Sheree Feinberg contributed greatly to this victory as well as others.

Seniors Sandy Muller and Beth Wheeler were also regarded as team attributes, with beam and vaulting as their strengths, respectively. Senior Amy Terrell, once said by Coach Gregory to have been the "spark of the team," was consistenly a top performer in all events. Though all team members struggled through practices and routines Amy Terrell and Marci Leopold were among the hardest workers. The latter was the most improved gymnast, her strong points having been floor and beam. Dana Campagna also added depth to the team. Onlookers will no doubt enjoy seeing her "demonstrations" repeated again next year.

Coach Gregory was pleased with the team's performances. She thinks the team has great potential, particularly with freshmen Chris Krol and Carey Snyder. Carey is thought to be a possible all-around champ in upcoming years.

1. Lindsay Lane strikes a pose for the judges. 2. Connie Leavitt casts classically. 3. Beth Wheeler prepares for an impressive stunt on beam. 4. Sheree Feinberg concentrates on a steady landing on the beam as she concentrates on a smooth leap through the air. 5. and 6. Amy Terrell pops from the springboard to the horse, through the air while she performs a perfect handspring vault. 7. Girls Varsity Gymnastics Team gathers and gabs. 8. Varsity Coach Gregory growls at the team, reassuring it that a victory is still in sight. 9. Sheree Feinberg demonstrates her grace on beam. 10. Varsity Gymnastics Team: Back row- Coach Gregory, A. "Rah, rah shish boom bah," is a typical expression often associated to LHS cheerleaders. Not only is cheering fun but it is filled with a great deal of hard work and dedication. The 1981 Football Cheerleaders, led by junior captains, Allison Blair and Chris Hoffer, had a great time cheering the Lancers to a winning season. The squad, which consisted of 12 girls, included seniors, Tracy Little and Patty Parker, and eight juniors, Pam Burchette, Mary Dolce, Michelle Gelinas, Elise Katz, Chris O'Connor, Alison Spitzer, Alyce Walker and Angel Wrona, who spent many hours a week practicing for the annual Saturday games. In rain, sleet or snow these girls still continued to support their team, with the help of advisor, Anne Dusel. The 1981 football season was an exciting and worthwhile experience to both cheerleaders and their fans!

"Time-Out" from the football season, the 1981-82 Basketball Cheerleaders led by Captains Pam Burchette and Chris O'Connor, excited and entertained the many fans which came to watch the Lancers "play-ball." These girls made the 10 week basketball season full of enthusiasm and excitement, not soon to be forgotten!

Winter evenings are never chilly in the LHS gymnasium with the Boys' Basketball team to keep the students cheering! The fans' spirit and enthusiasm is only matched by the sheer determination and will of the Lancer cagers coached by Mr. Ron Morisette. This winning season was inspired by the crack shooting of Mike Crosby, averaging 15 pts/game, the sheer speed of Ike Glasgow and the inpenetrable defense of Dan McLaughlin, all juniors! With this backbone of talent, the Lancers couldn't falter!

Coach Morisette provided his team with able leadership and confidence, demonstrated by two amazing away victories at Northampton and Putnam. Spectacular efforts by juniors Scott Hobbs and Matt Daniels resulted in a mid-season five game winning streak. Although seniors Greg Radner and Chip Snyder shall be greatly missed, the spunky returning juniors shall guarantee an equally exciting and satisfying 1983 basketball season!

1. Matt Daniels overpowers his opponent. 2. Mike Crosby blocks the attempted pass of a Falcon. 3. Scott Boudreaux passes the ball to a teammate. 4. Chip Synder goes for a score. 5. Ike Glasgow displays his agility. 6. Scott Hobbs is persistent in attaining another two points. 7. Lancers confer with one another during halftime. 8. Is the talent and ability of a team measured solely by the team's record? Although the girls basketball team did not have a "winning season," each girl displayed consistent determination despite the setbacks, accompanied by much talent and ability. Captained by senior superstars Bronwyn O'Reilly and Cheryl Bryskiewicz, both veterans who added strength and depth, the squad was coached by Ms. Carol Moore. Ms. Moore, in her second year at LHS and a former superstar at Springfield College, inspired the team with rigid discipline yet a close camaraderie. Coach Moore believes, "They're a young team with a great deal of determination, with much potential and plenty of room for growth."

The team has a variety of outstanding players, a diverse mixture of old and new. Freshman Lori Picard contributed greatly as well as sophomore sensations Cathy Davitt and Kerry Flanagan. Lisa "Beast" Doherty and Alice Chi highlight the junior roster and senior Pam Siegal supports the team with her play.

With the loss of only three seniors, and the excellence of a very promising J.V. team, the Lancerettes of '83 should be unbeatable. Throughout their trials, the team's rugged stamina and resilient spirit proves that LHS girls basketball team knows their staff and can prove it!

Things went swimmingly! The 1982 Boys' Swim Team, stronger than ever, completed a superb undefeated season! This record was brought about by a spirit of cooperation and dedicated discipline under the excellent coaching of Mark Michelson and Judy Gregory, with two super assistants! By practicing 6 times a week lifting weights, swimming at least 100 laps a day, the team confronted each opponent with confidence. Captained by veteran seniors John Oliveri and Tad Sudnick, the team had both depth and talent with frosh Jack Dolan and Eric Elsinger and a dependable diving squad of juniors Tom Ferrin, Bob Sweeney and Davis Paulides, who continuously performed flawlessly. The season culminated in the Western Mass championships in which Longmeadow defeated annual rivals Cathedral and E. Longmeadow. Although the team will lose quite a few seniors the remaining swimmers promise to dive right in and continue the Longmeadow tradition of excellence.

1. John Oliveri finishes with determination. 2. Bob Sweeney and his perfect form. 3. What more could be said? 4. Tom Ferrin checks out his score from diving coach Ms. Gregory. 5. One stroke to victory; one giant step for the LHS girls swim team! Reviving the traditional excellence of girls' swimming, the 1982 squad immersed themselves, in added glories by capturing Western Mass honors. Expected to practice at least three mornings a week, each afternoon, and early Saturday A.M., the 34 diligent swimmers exemplify dedication. Captained by Barbie Brennan, Mellisa Gulli, and Holly Dolan, the team welcomed back Coach Judy Gregory, who instructs both diving and swimming. Both the swimmers and coaches agree that the new coed practices added a new dimension to the pool. Despite rigorous competition from Cathedral, Minnechaug and Northhampton, Coach Michelson, confident in his "excellent team", overcame the opposition with the talents of juniors Karen Fraser and Mindy Pincus, and diver Julie Wilkinson. After claiming five official swimming records, the LHS mermaids look forward to new depths to conquer.

1. Mindy Pincus strokes to victory. 2. Coach Mark Michelson and swimming mate Barbie Brennan are escatic about a meet's outcome. 3. Diver J. Wilkinson performs a somersault-fulltwister perfectly. 4. Schuss through those gates! The fantastic winter weather of '82 provided the LHS ski team with a perfect opportunity to display their talent. Behind those fogged goggles sparkled an energetic squad which illustrated the word, DETERMINATION! Coached by Michael McCarthy, the team upheld the LHS tradition of victory, as strongly and as spirited as ever. Capturing the League championship, the girl skiers prepared themselves for the rigorous competition of the Western Mass Championships. Throughout the season, the boys maintained excellence under the leadership of Captain Tripp Lantz and skilled senior skiiers Keith Hall and Tom Landon, #2 in the league. Consistent top leaders showing their awesome potential were sophomores Tim Dow and Jeff Wilks. The camaraderie within the team itself culminated in triumph! The Lancer girls thoroughly dominated the slopes with senior captain Polly Lucier, tops at the starting gate. The girls were UNBEATABLE, making snowballs of their still competition, Cathedral and Macduffie. Juniors Anne Dowd, Robin Wilks, and Missy Freedman consistently combined for a trio of talent while freshman Barbara Gill awed spectators with her daring form. Despite the long, "Boring" bus rides, the LHS Lancers skiied away with all honors.

He shoots and he scores! The 1982 Lancer hockey team maintained its tradition of excellence as the Coliseum filled once again with enthusistic hockey fans. Despite the stiff user fee due to the harsh budgeting of Proposition 2½, the hockey squad remained as strong and unified as ever. Led once again by Coach Ray Suzor, the team diligently practiced hours each and every day to perfect their skating technique. Competition was rigorous in the extremely intense Berry Division, yet the Lancers refused to be intimidated, even by traditional powerhouses Cathedral, Agawam, and Classical. Indeed, the Lancers were seeded No. 2 in the Western Mass Division I hockey tournament, behind only Cathedral. A key to Longmeadow's success is its depth: the diversity of seniors, juniors, and even sophomores results in a network of skill and talent. Captained by Mark Puppolo and Tim Dineen, the Lancer offense was paced by senior speedsters John Howard, Al Iennaco, and Brian Martsen as well as Puppolo. Richard and Brian McClaughlin were also essential factors to the LHS scoring potential. The Lancer cagers Jim Bologa and John Sauve guarded their goal with style forming the last line of an impenetrable defense. LHS can be extremely proud of its hockey team: they are a perfect illustration of what sports are all about.

Been on a diet lately? Wearing five layers of sweats? If so, you could be a member of the LHS wrestling team, the most weight-conscious team in the school! 1982 marked a season of great transition for the wrestling team, as the squad became infused with a spirit of unity rather than traditional individualism. Much of this new unity was inspired by Coach Kevin Plette or Coach "K," the terrific first-year coach, and a squad of super seniors who exemplified dedication. Senior Malcolm Condon led the team in wins followed closely by "Brother" Steve Danalis, Matt Shoen, and junior score-stopper Kevin O'Brien. Malcolm even was bitten on the finger during a tough match by an aggressive opponent yet he refused to yield. Chris Johnson, a Springfield College student, made great contributions to the budding wrestlers as both a friend and assistant coach. There were many matches that were satisfying to the team but none so special as the defeat of Putnam and the learning experience of East Longmeadow. The wrestlers have finally attained their deserved respectability: that respectability shall be maintained next season with the solid return of veterans Kevin O'Brien, John McGuinness, Joel Nicucci, and the Wun brothers. Coach K deserves the applause of the LHS community and so do his wrestlers! They are AWESOME!

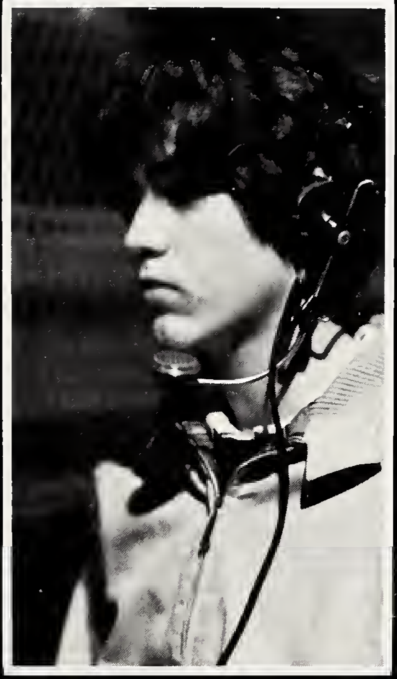
Activities



Service . . . Athletics . . . Literature . . The Arts . . . Activities at LHS. These activities enable each student to become involved at LHS beyond the realm of academics and sports. Through these experiences many students form lasting friendships which will endure throughout high school and beyond. An equally important aspect of activities are the close bonds that grow between students and teachers: opportunities which are not available in the classroom. Activities require responsibility yet they also inspire a sense of innate happiness. Activities at LHS have provided a great deal of "the best of times."

Will the book be here for the Senior Banquet? The eternal question asked in room 110 by editors and staff. Co-editors-in chief, Nadine Canter and Kristin Poppo, under the guidance of yearbook advisor, Mr. Mel Grant, donated endless hours creating this book and meeting the Banquet deadline. The 1982 theme of the "best of and worst of times" at LHS accurately represents the experiences of students during their high school years. This theme illustrates many facets of the LHS education: academics, sports, activities, weekends etc. The "best and worst of times" were also present in room 110. The problems with the studio, the deadlines missed, the talks to the staff by Kristin and Nadine were all depressing, but the camarderie between staff members, the inside jokes, and the jubilation of finishing Deadline #5 made it all worthwhile.

One of the best! The longmeadow Keyettes, advised by Ms. Patricia Murray worked non-stop to improve our community and school by contributing enormous amounts of time and dedication to service. The group consists of 75 girls ranging from sophomores to seniors. The Keyettes have chaired such projects as: visiting Shriner's Hospital weekly, holding complimentary dinners for the teachers, sponsoring canned food drives, phoning for the Springfield Symphony, and holding "jump-a-thons" for the Heart Association.

Always taking the upper hand in excellent service, the Longmeadow Keyettes have been repeatedly acclaimed as the best Keyette club in the Connecticut-Massachusetts district. They have also left their mark in International Keyettes (which represents 4 countries) by walking away with the award for the number one in spirit and achievement at the last International Convention. At the same time, one of their senior members, Beth Ditomassi, was elected to the office of International Keyette President, while Kristin Poppo was sworn in as District Treasurer. The Keyettes exceptional success is in part due to the club officers-President-Alicia Woods, Vice-president-Karen Watnick, Treasurer-Karen Goldstein, and Secretary-Sheila Connors-who install a sincere desire for achievement within all of the members.

Gearing their sights toward their International Keyette Project, The Special Olympics, the LHS Keyettes donation of roughly $1,000 will more than likely win them another award at their future convention. After all, the Keyette's motto is "we serve" and no one knows how to serve better than the Longmeadow Keyettes.

As the clock ticks 7:00 p.m. on a Monday evening, a group of LHS students gather for their weekly meeting. The Longmeadow Key Club is a member of an international organization which serves the community and strives to make the world a little bit better. Its members are special people; they work on a volunteer basis, paid by a smile or a word of thanks.

The theme this year was "Pursue Tomorrow's Potential," and the Key Club sought to satisfy this goal by helping young people. A faithful troop of Key Clubbers visited the children at Shriner's Hospital for a few hours every Sunday morning; they played and talked with the kids, showing them that someone cares. During the holiday season, the Key Club collected "Toys for Tots," and in January they held their annual Variety Show. The money raised from this event was donated to the New England Pediatric Trauma Institute and the Shriner's Hospital.

These are only a few of the countless projects in which the club participated throughout the year. Its members constituted the largest Key Club ever to exist at LHS. They worked under the dedicated leadership of president, Doug O'Connor; first vice-president, Mark Lamarre; second vice-president, Andy Clark; secretary, Greg Peruzzi; treasurer, David Lamarre; and their hard-working advisor, Mr. Jim Climo, who deserves special recognition.

The Key Club continues to be a very special and valuable part of LHS.

Who will wear the golden tassles? National Honor Society is comprised of slightly more than one hundred juniors and seniors, including four honorary A.F.S. and Y.F.U. members. These students must be scholastically eligible, juniors needing sixteen points and seniors needing eighteen points at the beginning of each respective year. They must also be approved by the faculty based on character, service, and leadership. The club, under the direction of President Claudia Sachsse, Vice-President Greg Labate, Secretary Lorrie Adamz, Treasurer Dan Croteau, Social Secretary Amy Falk, and advisors Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Dolgin, is involved in various activities in the school. The most important of its services, tutoring, is led this year by Allison Lund and Tad Sudnick. This service is available to students who feel that they need aid, and to teachers, who assign tutoring students in order to help them. Other activities include running the school bookstore, holding the annual ping-pong tournament, raising money for scholarships to aid seniors selected by the club, and helping several elementary and middle school students to pursue special interests through the voluntary mentor program. Thus, National Honor Society is an organization of students whose purpose is to serve the school, as well as its own members. In attaining this goal, it has proved itself very successful.

An incredible news experience! The Jet Jotter, the monthly news publication of LHS is a product of creative diligence led by a super senior staff of editors and the able guidance of Advisor, Mr. John Fitzgerald. It is a thought provoking paper which lends itself to national, community and student issues in a captivating format. From "Faculty Reflections" to "Hitting 'em Where They Ain't, the Jet Jotter channels its energies to cover all aspects of student opinion and contributions in its sections of "The Student Voice" and "Letters to the Editor" which reveal important views on such serious issues as abortion, drinking and colleges. Editor-in-chief Amy Falk, with her handy Shop Rite Aspirin, has unified all editors, writers, artists and photographers into a cooperative and a cohesive working unit turning out continually excellent papers amidst the pressure of DEADLINES. What editor could forget "Saturday Morning Layouts" or "Proofing at the Printer?" The highlight of the Jet Jotter Agenda is the annual weekend in New York where members attend the Columbia Journalism Competition and "away they went". After a rigorous but yet satisfying year, the members of the Jet Jotter can rest assured they are indeed a fine addition to Longmeadow High School.

And oh what a week it was! The 1981 Homecoming festivities were ignited by the fiery rivalry of the Daisy-Weeds touch football game. The tremendous participation and awesome effort instilled a precious feeling of unity in the seniors during this first major activity of the fall. Now, could you ever forget those cheerleaders??? As Monday morning dawned, it was the initial day of Spirit Week, a week in which to demonstrate school spirit, inspired by the ingenuity of the seniors. Monday, Costume Day, was a grand success as members of all four classes shared their originality and creativity with the school. Tuesday, after the inaugural day of Monday, was Hat and Glasses day, and the array of unique hats and outrages spectacles swept LHS, now thriving in unified participation. Finally, looking like a page from Talbots, the school underwent P.O.B.B. day (Prepped Out Beyond Belief) and preppie was an understatement. The combination of pink, green and blue coupled with multiple Lacostes under Oxfords under Deans made P.O.B.B. day the highlight of Spirit Week. In a fashion true to form, the Lancer gridmen fulfilled the hopes of Spirit Week by crushing rival East Longmeadow 42-22 in the premiere Thanksgiving Day showdown. In retrospect, the activities of Spirit Week hold special memories of good fun, great wins and an essential unity not soon to be forgotten.

From January to March, what is the commotion each Tuesday in the hallways by the music room? It's none other than the LHS Ski Club! With over one hundred students in the club this year, there is a mild explosion from the school as both chaperones and students prepare for their weekly afternoon of skiing. The challengers range from novice to expert, some under the guidance of the Mt. Tom instructors, while others take off to explore the mountain on their own. Advisor Mel Grant embarks on these weekly excursions as enthusiastically as the students. Also, several chaperones from past years decided to return despite a few roadblocks. Mrs. Jane Murphy had to "park" her new baby daughter, while Mr. Pete Thompson, tried out a newly sewn-together knee. Even Mr. Al Jangl, now a teacher in the middle schools requested to come back for another exciting season with the LHS ski club. This year, the Ski Club is planning a weekend trip to Burke Mountain. "Let me entertain you, let me make you smile . . ." That's exactly what the Drama club did, with "Gypsy", produced and directed by Michael A. Mucci. Michael Mucci did an outstanding job directing "Gypsy", and for ten weeks he worked hard, with patience and understanding in order to put the final product on the stage. The actors and actresses practiced continuously for agonizing weeks to perfect their singing, acting, and dancing for opening night. Many of the performers, such as Karen Rich, Daryl Kreiling, Ted Gilman, Maura Malone, Lee Ann Diamond, Kim Sweet, and Ray Lyons have participated in previous musicals productions, such as "Guys and Dolls" and "The Sound of Music". These veterans displayed a great amount of acting ability, talent, and enthusiasm, which inspired the new musical players. Karen Rich, who played the lead, Rose, was marvelous; her performance was convincing and her voice beautiful. Daryl Kreiling, Gypsy Rose Lee, was also outstanding and similarly dazzled the audience with her singing capability. Jazz Ensemble was responsible for the colorful, energetic music, and there was a set crew that was responsible for the realistic and varied props. Altogether, the play was fantastic. Although the cast had opening-night jitters, all went accordingly and each member had a great experience not soon to be forgotten. The lucky audiences which applauded the enthusiastic cast for its three night run, will fondly remember "Gypsy" with a smile.

A better chance wins again! The ABC program, now in its eighth year, provides academically talented minority students with an educational alternative. This year we gained three new students, freshman Clyde Robinson and sophomore Eduardo Crespo, both from New York, and sophomore Richard Brown from New Jersey. Including the five older students from last year. LHS is now lucky to have eight strong and enthusiastic ABC students enrolled at the high school. The boys reside happily at ABC house with resident directors Mr. and Mrs. Medina, while the girls are being hosted by various volunteer Longmeadow families. Activities for '82 include the Annual ABC road race, the ABC telethon, the upcoming tag sales, and a super trip to New York. ABC is a great chance for LHS students to meet these super kids!

Longmeadow's Metco program adds a vital dimension to both the participating students and LHS. Celebrating its second successful year, Metco, a program which enables city students to attend suburban schools, now has 18 members. These young adults are involved in a wide variety of school functions ranging from Key Club to student council, from food fights to spirit week. They share their varied interests and experiences with Longmeadow High School Students and enrich us with their individuality. The METCO students learn in a stimulating academic environment and undoubtedly play an integral part in all Longmeadow High School activities. "31 General Knowledge" could be heard one Saturday night in November from LHS's As Schools Match Wits team. First year coach Mrs. Beth Young, a reading consultant, feels students should be proud to represent their school. Four players and an alternate make up the team: Richard Gotleib, Neil Hoyer, Robert Cohen, Katherine Rigby and alternate Lorenz Shilke. Their only match for the '81 season was against East Longmeadow. Mrs. Young feels that they were at a disadvantage because it was so early in the season they did not have enough prep time. For future years Mrs. Young would like to encourage more students to become involved so the "cream of the crop" will represent Longmeadow High School.

Will the user's fee diminish? How will Proposition 2 1/2 affect the students? These are among the various controversial issues tackled by the debate club. Don't let its size deceive you. Eight eager individuals advised by Mr. Bergeron have proven their talents of ingenuity and logic through a successful 1981 debating season.

It's the aides to the rescue! Ask any librarian and he or she will tell you that managing books isn't easy. Books must be checked, shelved and organized, and the work is done by the library aides, who assist the library staff. Mrs. Pratt, the aides' advisor, says, "They are bright and helpful, and should be commended for their excellent work." Steve Murray, Celeste Edmonds, Marlene Summer are a few of the aides who work to keep the library functioning for the students' convenience.

Similarly the bookstore, enables students to buy books for assigned reading or for their own enjoyment. When Mr. Gelinas isn't running the store, members of N.H.S. fill in for him.

Teachers' demands for A.V. materials are met by the audio visual aides. Such aides as Peter Huber, Erin O'Brien, and Mark Leary are learning valuable information as they work. What would L.H.S. do without the help of these aides?

Plug into outlet at LHS! Outlet, the highschool's own magazine of creative expression published annually, is charge with enthusiastic student contributers. Sparked by second year chief editor Beth Petrucci and guided by Ms. Linda McShane, outlet is an activity in which all students can participate. Many veteran contributors have returned including the excellent junior poet Rebecca Dosick, and super seniors Heidi Salz, Scott Keeley, Mary Biscaldi and many more vital staff members. Everyone is accepted by Outlet, where students can make their mark and receive satisfying feedback. So take the chance and express yourself, it could be a shocking experience.

We're outward bound! Four years ago, Science Teacher Mr. Hirsch felt that there ought to be a club to gear the students of L.H.S. towards nature appreciation. Thanks to his enthusiasm and leadership, the high school now has an active, 40 member Outing Club.

The club has taken many trips throughout the year. In the early fall, they took a three day, 30 mile canoe trip down the Saco River in Maine. They also took a day trip to Chapel Ledge in Ashfield, Mass with professional rock climbers to learn about technical rock climbing. In the winter, the eager members headed to Vermont, and resided in a house near Okemo Mountain for a weekend of skiing, skating, and good times.

Mr. Hirsch said he will always be an avid supporter of outdoor experience, and he will continue to be an advisor as long as there is participation and enthusiasm from the students. At this point, it is obvious that Outing Club has had a successful past, and is looking foreward to a successful future. Outing Club is a super experience from which one may learn not only about nature but oneself as well.

American Field Service is an international club represented through-out high schools around the world. AFS offers high school graduates or underclassmen the oppportunity to study at a high school in a foreign country. The student also learns the language, customs and culture of that country which becomes a second home.

Longmeadow is proud to have an active AFS chapter, and has had much success sending and receiving aFSers. With 25 active members, the AFS club at LHS meets the first Tuesday of every month. Seniors Connie Heye and Ellen Daley are Co-presidents, aided by Lynda Hafer as Treasurer, and Kathy Ditzler as Secretary. The club sponsors several money raising activities such as the annual AFS carnival in the fall, the luscious international dinner, exchange weekends with New England AFS clubs and a carnival during "Longmeaddowe Days."

The AFS students attending the high school this year are Lars Stigmo from Denmark, Sandra Zerbetto from Brazil, and Alejandro Ochoa from Mexico. These students are enjoying their year, and have been a great asset to the club and the school at large.

AFS is a wonderful way to broaden horizons, understand culture, and meet other peers from all over the world! AFS is a tremendous organization!

"Play it again!" The Longmeadow High School, instrumental department, under the tremendous leadership of Mr. Wilfred Burkle has continued their successful accomplishments of the past years. The Jazz Ensemble, winning the Western District Competition for the past two years, is led by dedicated Mr. Michael Mucci, who has to divide his time between the High school and Middle Schools. Due to the effects of Proposition 2 ½ the instrumental classes have been rescheduled and reduced combining the Jazz Ensemble and the Band to form the Symphonic Band. Yet the cut backs have not effected the quality of this department and Mr. Burkle stated, "We will not let the quality of the band be effected by the budget or personnel," and they will continue to have another successful year.

Lights, Camera, Action! The LHS Drama Club is a growing organization with high hopes for the future. This year with advisor Michael Mucci, the club staged the wonderful musical "Gypsy." "Gypsy" was a tremendous success for both the cast and its promoters. A super double feature of "Come Blow Your Horn" and "The Real Inspector Hound" was also presented. Though each is unique, both shows are comedies, entirely directed and produced by students. "Come Blow Your Horn" is written by Neil Simon, while "The Real Inspector Hound" is a farcical show. In keeping with tradition, yet another play for children was produced late in the year.

Co-presidents Kim Sweet and Maura Malone, Treasurer Janine Howell, and Secretary Lily Butsky have seen a great increase in membership since the triumph of "Gypsy." The club consists not only of actors and actresses, but also of set designers, stage hands, props crew, lighting and sound controllers, and others. Indeed, Drama Club is a diverse and truly talented goup of students. Go watch 'em!

Runners on your mark, get set, go! Longmeadow's indoor track club came in third in Western Mass this year despite tough competition. Due to proposition 2½, the club had no coach this year and no captains to form a team. Instead, it became an informal club that competed with other running clubs in Western Massachusetts. Among other teams, LHS ran against Cathedral and Northampton, two very excellent and competitive squads. The team spent a great deal of time practicing and of course at indoor competition at UMass and Amherst. The team consists of 8 members, including seniors Paul Welch, who finished first in the 1000 yard run, and Mike McLaughlin, who came in fourth in the two mile race. Indoor Track is a super sport which combines stamina, perserverance and fun.

Singers do it with excellence; at least our own singers from LHS do! Girls' Chorus, which is basically an introduction to music, teaches the girls about tone, reading music, and how to control their voices. Girls' Concert Chorus, conducted by Mr. Michael Mucci, has a reputation for being one of the few truly great choirs in the state of Massachusetts. They perform beautifully each year in various concerts such as the Winter Concert, the Pops Concert, and the Spring Concert, and this year was no exception. Many of the girls, including Katie Parker, Kathy Ditzler, Ellen Daley, and Kris Fijol, join because of their interest in music and because they enjoy the variety of music and the challenge and fun of developing their voices. Men's chorus, led by Peter Thomsen, continued its established excellence with a super variety of new and veteran members. The elite group Lyrics is a collection of highly talented singers who perform superbly their talented selections. I Cantori is the culmination of talent, a seasonal chorus composed of members including sensational seniors Lisa Cogan, Daryl Kreiling, and Ray Mentor. It is indeed obvious that LHS has many musically gifted students which promote the highly successful musical program!

Bravo! Variety Show, 1982 truly was "extraordinary"! Once again the Key Club and the talent of LHS combined for knockout entertainment. An annual event, the Variety Show is an excellent showcase for interested students to display their ingenuity, skill, and humor. The Key Club used the profits from the Variety Show for its service project, The New England Regional Pediatric Trauma Institute. Opening the show was the dazzling rock group The Allies, composed of four fabulous frosh! Highlights included the duet "Endless Love" performed flawlessly by seniors Candy Jennings and Ray Lyons, the uproarious Holy Rodents, the mystical majesty of ballerina Angel Wrona, and the funky steps of Kraftwerk. "Extraordinary People" was directed by Key Clubber Andrew Skoler and a large staff of dedicated production supervisors. In retrospect, the Variety Show was a terrific production for an important institution. Encore, encore!

Underclassmen

Being an underclassmen involves metamorphosis of each students' high school years. Each student in his freshman year experiences Change: the best times of new friends and new ideals versus the worst times of heavy homework and harsh inadequacies. Sophomore year provides a respite from the novelty of freshmanhood yet it remains a year of limbo: the growing confidences contrast the attitudes of immaturity. JUNIOR year: a year of major responsibilities and major academics. The year is vital to the maturation of the individual: he must ready himself to assume the leadership of senior year and he must begin preparation for the future beyond the halls of LHS. Despite the homework, a junior feels the impact of his past two years and evolves as a mature young adult ready to face future challenges. An underclassmen at LHS truly experiences "the best and worst of times."

Junior 1983

A Junior (Joon yer): the younger; of more recent position or lower status; Younger maybe, but the 1983 graduating class is far from being lower in status. With the leadership of President Michael Vinick and help from Vice-President John Ratkowski, Secretary Joanne Cardoropoli and Treasurer Lisa Doherty, the juniors are just about ready for their final year. Having won the Homecoming float competition and having participated in many other school and community functions they are heading for a fantastic and memorable senior year. Being upperclassmen and sharing this great yet difficult year as a unified class has made this 1981-82 a year to remember. Who knows with the determination and optimism of the juniors, maybe the Rolling Stones will play at the prom! (Sorry NRBQ!)

Sophomores 1984

Finally finished Freshmanhood! Sophomore year is a time for students to establish their high school goals, and to reflect on that fateful freshman year. It can be a difficult year because the excitement of entering a new school, has dissipated and being an upperlcassman is just within their tenuous grasps. Yet the class of '84 has done an extraordinary job under the able leadership of President, Timmy Dow, and two enthusiastic advisors Mrs. Jane Murphy and Mr. Richard Rediker. Every activity has inspired the necessary unity that makes a great class: a hay ride, dances and an artistic float, are just the beginning of more great experiences and great fun!

Freshmen 1985

1985 is only four years away! Thus, the freshman class quickly got underway the necessary organization while experiencing their first taste of high school. After the initial freshman orientation, a new development at LHS, the freshman laid the foundation for their class activities with the election of class officers for the 1981-82 year. Homecoming spirit was great as the "prep class" captured honors during P.OB.B. day and in January the excitement of the moped raffle generated enthusiasm throughout the class. With the continued large attendance at Class Council under the knowing guidance of Advisors Mrs. Sedran and Mr. Riccio, the frosh should indeed be an awesome Senior class. "They have been shown the light" and will follow it.

Class Council
1. President- Richard Skoler
2. Vice President- Jennifer Daniels
3. Class Advisor-Vito Riccio
4. Secretary- Tamara Lentino
5. Treasurer- Jennifer Sweet
6. Class Advisor- Mary-Ann Sedran

As the end of the year approaches, we can sit back and reflect on the best and the worst times spent producing the 1982 Masacksic. Numerous afternoons filled with camaraderie and a sense of purpose, have made the anxieties and hassles all worthwhile. We have put our best efforts into this book and hope that we have best represented your time at Longmeadow High School. We'd like to thank those who have made our year a little smoother and more enjoyable. Thank you,

Nadine Canter and Kristin Poppo
Editors 1982 Masacksic

Special thanks to:

Mr. Grant, our advisor and mentor
Our Editors and staff on Masacksic
Steven's Photography
Mr. Don Lendry, our yearbook representive
Mr. Lopes, for the use of his phone and typewriter
Our Typewriter THIEF
Mrs. Reed, for afternoon snacks
The Holy Bagel, for endless bagels
All student contributors
The janitors, for our late hours and their keys

Krista don't get so emotional! . . . How could we loose three stories? . . . Mesh, can we go yet? . . . Does anybody have a car? . . . That deadline was a week ago! . . . Will we have the book for banquet? . . . I'm starving, who wants cookies from the cafeteria? . . . Kimmels bagels are the best . . . Kristin don't get sick again . . . Nadine, where were you during homeroom this morning? . . . Ads, an even page goes on the left not on the right . . . Mr. Grant, can I have a library pass and a pass out of I.S.? . . . Eight Jim Crows? . . . Purple and Green dots in the English hall . . . Supplements cost a dollar now . . . How many more ways can we say the best and worst of times . . . 08246, for the last time . . . Whose turn to stay after today? . . . You can explain at the banquet.
